

Pink Ribbon Walk 2016

October is internationally recognised as Breast Cancer Awareness Month (BCAM). One of the key events in support of BCAM is the Pink Ribbon Walk which aims to build public awareness of breast cancer and fund raising. This year's walk was held on 1st October which saw more than 4000 over participants gathering at the Marina Bay Waterfront Promenade where the start point was.

In support of Pink Ribbon Walk 2016, The Harley Street Team comprising of our oncologists Dr Lo Soo Kien and Dr Ooi Wei Seong and our dedicated team of nurses participated in the walk. We were honoured to have our patients joining us and together supporting this worthy pink initiative.

Dr Lo, a senior medical oncologist at The Harley Street Cancer clinic, said: "Cancer patients, besides having to deal with medical and physical challenges, also have to cope with the many emotions that come with the disease. By taking a small part of this event, we wish to provide support services to our patients throughout their recovery journeys. The walk is a bonding session for families, friends or it can be a personal journey to make new friends."
